

Dole Institute Photo Journal
"The Conflict Records Research Center
 and New Research on Saddam's Iraq"

DAVID PALKKI

Dole Archive Visiting Fellow
 Deputy Director of the National Defense University's Conflict Records Research Center (CRRC)
 March 31, 2011

- Home
- About the Institute
- Leadership & Staff
- Programs
- Dole Fellows
- For Students
- Newsroom
- For Visitors
- The Dole Archive
- Program Video
- Library
- Facility Rental
- Our Calendar
- Photo Journals
- E-mail Updates

COMING UP at the Dole Institute

Thurs., March 31, 2011
"The Conflict Records Research Center
 and New Research on Saddam's Iraq"
DAVID PALKKI
 3:00 p.m. at the Dole Institute
 Public Reception follows

David Palkki is the Deputy Director of the National Defense University's Conflict Records Research Center (CRRC). Before coming to the CRRC, he spent several years analyzing Saddam's Iraq at the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA). At IDA he authored and co-authored several studies on Saddam's Iraq, including a major study for the Department of Defense based on captured audio files. He has also worked as a military analyst for the US Government, and is a PhD candidate in political science at UCLA. His dissertation is on "Detering Saddam's Iraq: Theory and Practice." Also, Palkki is the second annual Dole Archive Visiting Fellow.

SENIOR DOLE ARCHIVIST MORGAN DAVIS, DAVID PALKKI AND ADRIAN LEWIS, PROFESSOR OF HISTORY AND DIRECTOR, KU
 OFFICE OF PROFESSIONAL MILITARY GRADUATE EDUCATION

NATIONAL DEFENSE UNIVERSITY

